"We liked the CFS system, when we saw the brochures, but just didn't realise the full benefits until we came to use the machines"

5x Giga Vitesse 3601CFS

William and his Son Martin Beckett, of Beckett Agri, Mayfield Services Ltd, run five Strautmänn GV CFS 3601 wagons

"We have had some experience with the earlier Strautmänn Super-Vitesse model and found them to be bullet proof". Our choice was therefore made easy when we came to selecting the new machines we especially like the CFS system."

The material is well spread over the whole pickup, which means no lumps being presented to the chopping mechanism – you don't have to wait for another lump to push through the first one any more "laughed William. On power requirement, William feels that these new machines are much easier to drive, due to the new CFS feeding system. "You know the tines are not in rows anymore", he said. "The cam system is gone and the tines on the pickup are now in a helical layout – just like a spiral – it just means that there is a nice flow of material to the knives at all times". "You know, we haven't broken even one tine this year and by now each wagon has around 500 acres done. How about knife breakages? "No breakages on knives either" said William.
